How to fulfill Academic potential

- How a student uses their 'free time'
- Reinforce learning all year
- Access support in school: ILC, study room, master classes

ON A SCALE OF ONE TO TEN...

Not really working

Hard work.

The hardest you've ever worked.

3-4 hours – the odd free – a little at home.

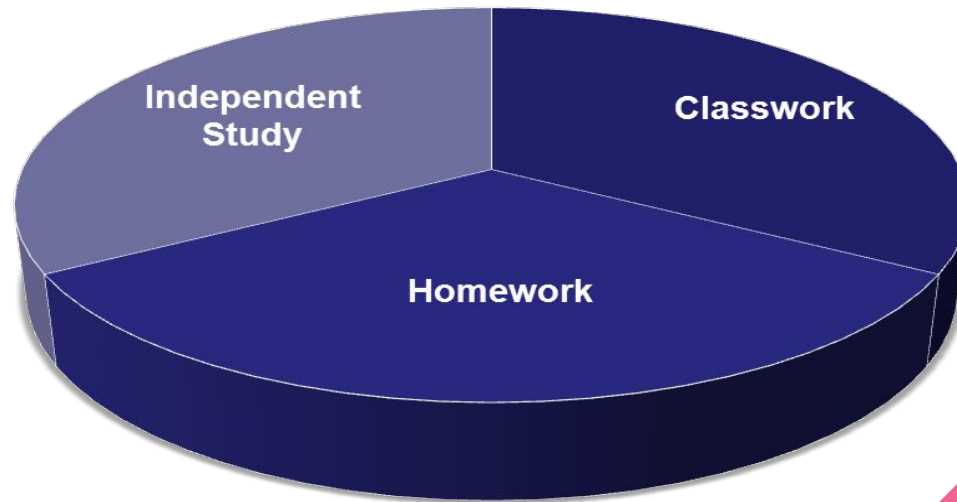

10 -12 hours a week outside lessons.

20 hours a week outside lessons.

Independent Learning

Three elements...

How to study

1. Get into a study routine - It is easier to stay motivated if studying becomes part of everyday life and routine. Switch off phones and devices before starting
2. Effective Reading - Reading for learning requires a conscious effort to make links, understand opinions, research and apply what a student learns to their studies. One of the most effective ways of actively engaging with reading is to make notes in your own words as you go along
3. Note Taking - Regardless of how good you think your memory is - taking notes will help to remind a student what was said. Effective note-taking involves listening whilst jotting down key points that will be important later, not writing every single word down
4. Planning and writing an Essay - The original meaning of an essay is 'an attempt', or a try, at something. It is therefore appropriate to consider writing an essay as a learning exercise. Essay writing skills will improve and develop the more a student writes. Making an essay plan before beginning and sort out what to include in the essay, the order and the clear points to be made
5. Reflecting on feedback and marked work - The feedback received from the marker of the essay or assessments should help to advance a student's study skills, writing, research and critical thinking skills. Encourage students to ask if they are unsure of any of the feedback given.

Support

- We have a set of dedicated Sixth Form Tutors with lots of experience in helping students with their next steps to support our students
- We know the pressures of A levels can be stressful so our Period 1 programme helps students cope with the pressure of A Levels as well as having fun with our Friday activities.

Day	Activity
Monday	Sixth Form Bulletin
Tuesday	Week 1 - Careers Week 2 - Personal Development
Wednesday	Wellbeing Wednesday
Thursday	Personal Development /SMSC
Friday	Quiz / Tutor Mentoring

Pastoral Support

- Support is available from Mrs Gadsby for Sixth Form Students with any issues they may be experiencing that are impacting on their day to day lives
- Advice can be provided on organisation, stress, time management and wellbeing at pressure points in the year as well as in the weekly Wellbeing Wednesday sessions
- Additional academic support is offered through the lifebelt process when needed
- Referrals to outside agencies can be made if necessary including the Just B Counselling service and the Wellbeing in Mind Team support available in school

Pressure Points

At times of pressure, it is important that young people know they are not alone.

Working together with home and school, ensures a young person is looking after themselves and not taking too much on and is something we can all contribute to including:

- Regular routines
- Good eating and sleeping habits
- Home/School/Work balance

ATTENDANCE MATTERS Sixth Form

Attendance falling below 95% has been shown to result in an average reduction of one A Level grade per subject. This increases to two grades when attendance falls below 90%.

To have the best possible chance in Sixth Form, you should be in school at 8.35am and in Period 1 ready to start learning at 8.40am

For every minute that you are late you are losing learning time. This will significantly affect your progress.

At Tadcaster Grammar School, we consider 92% or below a serious risk of underachievement

Tracking applications and offers

UCAS Hub is the place to check for:

- application updates
- view offers
- reply to offers online

One of three decisions will be made:

- unconditional offer
- conditional offer
- unsuccessful

Offer Deadlines:

- 18 May if application sent by the 25 January 2023
- 12 July if application sent by 30 June
- End of October if clearing application

Students will receive responses back at different times, as some institutions start to make offers earlier than others. In some cases, offer decision-making only starts after the UCAS application deadline has passed.

Replying to offers

Once decisions have been made on all choices, up to two can be chosen:

- one as a 'firm' acceptance – first choice
- the other as an 'insurance' acceptance. This acts as a backup to the 'firm' choice

Any remaining offers must be declined.

Once all decisions and replies have been made, students who are not holding an offer, may be able to use Extra or Clearing to find available places.

How can you support?

Open days

Attend virtual events and open days – you may have a different perspective.

Be proactive

Make sure they carefully read everything that is sent to them and don't book holidays at key times!

Personal Statement

Your child may find writing their personal statement the most difficult part of the application process – they're not alone!

For most applicants, it will be the first time they've had to write reflectively about themselves. Taking a positive approach, and leaving enough time to do a good job, really can make your child's application stand out from the crowd.

TIP A good personal statement:

- is relevant and focused – don't waste the 4,000 characters
- uses clear, plain English ▸ avoids clichés
- is original – UCAS' software scans all personal statements for plagiarism
- is redrafted multiple times until it's right

Open Days

It's pretty standard for students to take along one or both parents, or guardians, to an open day. Going to an open day is one of the best ways to help make well-informed decisions about where and what to study.

A successful open day trip is all about the preparation. Plan ahead by:

- Book, places are limited and pre-registration to attend is usually required.
- Make a rough plan for your day – check anything you need to in advance, eg accommodation tours, beware of talks to attend and taster lectures.
- Get in touch before the day, if you have any special requirements or disabilities.
- Drafting questions you need answers to.

Student Finance

While at university your child will have two main costs – tuition fees and living costs. They can apply for student finance to help with both.

All eligible students can get a:

- Tuition Fee Loan to cover the full cost of the fees charged by their university or college
- Maintenance Loan to help with living costs, such as rent and bills

Any loans they borrow have to be paid back, but not until they've finished or left their course, and their income is over the repayment threshold.

There are also grants available for students who have a disability, including a long-term health condition, mental health condition, or specific learning difficulty, or students who have an dependant who depends on them financially.

A student's university or college may also offer bursaries, scholarships, or other kinds of financial help.

Once your child has applied for student finance, that depends on your household income, you'll get an email within 24 hours with a link to submit your household income details.

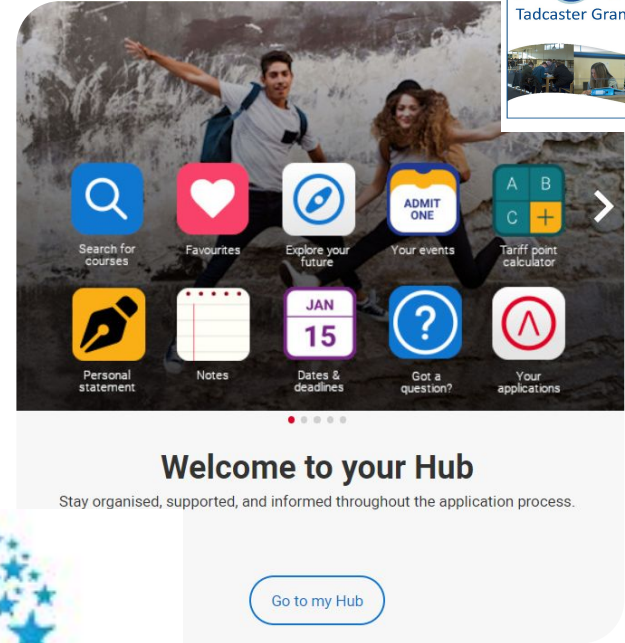

You'll need to create an account if you haven't already got one
